AMERICA FOR AMERICANS & AMERICANS

MCKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was born in a factory in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1896 William L. Wilson was born and died in London because he is the author of a Free-trade Tariff Bill. These are significant facts.

And now the Democratic Treasurer of Kings County, N. Y., stole $6,000 in cash and two bonds of $100,000 each are missing. Oh, these honest Democrats!

THREE years ago a Republican President-elect demanded $25,000,000 for a head-and-a-half per cent. bonds at 2 per cent. Today a Democratic President is borrowing money at 8½ per cent. That would be a good inscription for a campaign banner, only there are so many of the same sort they would grow monotonous.

THE LYNCHER neither refused nor declined to publish any decision regarding the Sunday law. As it was never furnished with or asked to publish any such decision it could not have refused or declined to do so. Besides if a choice is to be made in any matter THE LEDGER prefers always to give the latest ideas, and next time in vogue half a century ago.

COLONEL SAM. H. STONE of Madison has announced his candidacy for Auditor of Public Accounts, subject to the action of the Republican Convention. Without disparagement to any others whose names may be presented, it is safe to say no man in the state is better equipped for the place and THE LEDGER knows of none other who would bring to the ticket greater elements of strength. Mr. Stone was Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue for the Eighth District; he is a gentleman of culture, free from all "entangling alliances," and if nominated THE LEDGER believes he will not only add strength to the ticket, but that he will lead it by many votes in many of the most important counties.

A SPECIAL from Frankfort says that Kentucky schoolteachers are whistling for the last installment of their pay, and though it was announced some time ago by State Treasurer Hale, with all positiveness, that he had perfected plans by which the deficit in the treasury was to be bridged, there is no definite promise as to when this obligation will be met. The last installment fell due January 1st and one-half of this was paid some time during that month, leaving 10 per cent. or $200,000 in the aggregate, still due. Some of the state officials who do not take as rosy a view of the prospect for financial relief as the Treasurer does, have little hope that this will be paid before the end of the fiscal year, June 30th.

Mr. Henry Kilian and Miss Maggie May Jones, both of this country, were married at the Clerk's office Saturday Judge Hutchins officiated.

The back number marriage was not announced from our pulpit yesterday, but there were large congregations at all the churches. It is safe to say that more people heard the Gospel yesterday than for a long time past.

On account of Mud Grass at New Orleans the C. and O. will sell round trip tickets from Maysville to New Orleans at one fare, $21.90. Tickets on sale February 19th to 24th inclusive. Return limit March 15th.

James W. Gillam, employed on the farm of T. L. Holton, near Tuckahoe, who resides in the West End, was waylaid and robbed Saturday night. Mr. Gillam says he started home Saturday evening about 7 o'clock, and as he was passing the brick kiln on the North corner of Second and Lower Main, a man stepped out from behind the brick pile and struck him in the face with a shotgun, knocking him down and then raking him of $2 and a pair of gloves. He had a package of meat, but this was overlooked. Mr. Gillam cannot tell whether his assailant was white or black the deed was done so quickly. His face is badly swollen by the blow. The master was reported to the police.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" drew the usual big crowds Saturday afternoon and evening. Two bulldogs and a brass band is what catches em every time.

"Side Tracked," with Julie Harris in its original character of "The Tramp," is a meritorious farce comedy. Our loving citizens will miss an evening's enjoyment if they do not attend. This is not a paid notice.

The following real estate transfers were made Saturday: W. S. Watson and wife to James H. Murphy, 5 acres in the Shannon neighborhood, consideration, $400. Mrs. Rebecca J. Tolle and husband to W. H. Ball, lot in Clifton, consideration, $100.

Mr. Leon H. Vincent will deliver the first of a series of three lectures at the High School tomorrow evening, February 19th, subject to be announced tomorrow. Doors open at 7 o'clock; lecture begins at 8:30. Tickets 35 cents at the door. All cordially invited.

Here's another Vaneburg special that most likely is an 18-carat lie. Charles T. Morgan, a prominent farmer of Kinney Creek, swore out a warrant for the arrest of James E. Conner, charging him with the ruin of his daughter, not yet 12 years old. She gave birth to a child Tuesday. Conner is a young man of good parentage.

John Harrington, who resides in the West End, doesn't believe in keeping marriage a secret. John married and didn't keep it a secret; then he married again without telling his wife and didn't keep that a secret either, least from his wife. No. 2 because No. 1 was untrue to him, but No. 1 couldn't see it that way. So Harrington was arrested Saturday on a warrant charging him with bigamy. The case will have an airing in "Square Briar's" Court at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Now it's marriage a failure?

Attention, A. O. U. W.: All members of the A. O. U. W. are requested to meet at their Hall on Sutton street this evening at 7 o'clock to make arrangements for the funeral of Brother Lowry. By order of Five Appropriation Bills Yet to Be Disposed Of.

Some Hope of Getting a Vote in the Senate on Financial Bills.

Several Other Important Measures Are to Be Disposed of Before This Session Ends Among Them One to Equalize Pensions of American War Veterans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—With five appropriation bills still up, and no progress made of this session before it, the senate will not be inclined to discuss matters other than appropriation bills this week.

There is always the possibility of a special dissolution bill being introduced, but the very last rule of the senate, more or less of the morning hour, may be consumed in this way. The hope of getting a vote in the senate on the various financial bills has not been altogether abandoned, it may be reached after the sundry civil bill is out of the way. The coming week will be required to pass the pension bill and the similar civil bills, which will be reported to the senate Monday.

"I will get him," said Harris, "will you go with me?"

The men refused, saying that it was impossible.

"Then I will go alone," said Harris.

A COLLISION.

Two Trains on the Santa Fe Railway Come Together.

The Engines Were Hurled Into Each Other One-Third Their Length.

The Scene Was a Terrible One.—Several of the Train Crews Badly Hurt. Some Fatally.—A Conductor's Fatal Intercession of the Orders

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 18.—One of the most disastrous wrecks the Santa Fe railway had had for years took place five miles south of this city about midnight yesterday. The engine and passenger train bound Galveston express, left here a few moments late, heavily loaded with Texas excursionists, and at 11:45 was rounding a sharp curve in a deep cut in a bend of the Arkansas river.

Passenger Inspector McAvoy saw a shower of sparks thrown into the air across the bluff near the other end of the curve. He realized in an instant that the engine was on fire, the smoke rising from the engine and under the engine, he leaped onto the dark ness against the side of the cut, calling to his firemen to jump also, while the latter could comply the northbound fire truck. Some engine arms were lost at the rate of forty-five an hour, and the two engines came together with a terrible crash. The two engines were hurled into each other one-third their length. A dozen freight cars were piled into one great mass and in baggage, and pressed the mass of the passenger train completely tele-emptied and demolished all in an instant.

The scene was an awful one. Added to the terrific noise was the escape of steam from the engines, and a cloud of hundreds of cattle burned or maddened by the smell of blood, completely drowning the groans of the injured and the body frightened passengers. The passengers were scattered over the track, but many of the gigantic Texas steers, breaking loose from the wreckage, would plunge madly in the darkness, making it dangerous for any one to venture into the night to assist the injured trainmen.

Buried beneath the engines and crushed to death was Freight Engineer Charles Updegraff, of Topeka, and lying beside his engine, terribly burned and scalded, was Passenger Engineer Pat Collier, of Atlanta, Ga., known to have been picked up dead, but, after several hours, revived. He can not live.

A Hahn, the freight engineer, had his legs crushed, and died. James Morrison, the conductor, had both arms broken. Edward Kitchen, passenger conductor, hand mashed and body bruised. Express Messenger R. D. Beagle, of Kansas City, badly crushed; Baggage-man Geo. Neville, scalped; Harry Trower, of Kansas City, cut about the head, died. John C. Kinnish and R. A. Sprout bodies lacinated. Mail Clerk Hutchins, head badly cut. Three or four other trainmen were hurt.

Justice H. W. Hughes of the State supreme court was badly hurt as was State Senator Scott and Representatives Brown, Willing and Sutton. None of the through passengers were injured. The last to leave the train according to this report, and now receiving the best of treatment, seventy head of cattle were killed and many injured. The loss to the railroad company will exceed $20,000.

The passenger had been ordered to stop at Seward, three miles south of the wreck, to pass the passenger. Why it did not will never be known, as Engineer Updegraff, who received the orders and had them in his pocket, was instantly killed.

Pittsburgh Coal Operators Convene.—Pittsburgh, Feb. 18.—The formation of an organization of the Pittsburgh coal operators, including river and rail, to regulate prices and production, will be attempted with a special meeting of the operators in Pittsburgh. "Tuesday, Feb. 21." If the organization is effected a price for coal will be established, and all of the product of the mines sold through one agency. This will put an end to the rate wars that have proven so disastrous to the trade, and will necessitate a radical departure from the practice of the past.

THE LEDGER INTENDS TO KEEP THE BALL ROLLING!

There is a good deal of misinformation about regarding the probable cost of securing free turnpikes in Mason County.

And it is not strange that the opponents of the movement should use all the arts of the demagogue to poison the minds of people on the subject.

Indeed, it would be strange if they did not.

No one proposes to pay the owners of the roads what they cost—that would not only be unjust, but it would entail an enormous and an endless cost on the county.

If it be deemed best to purchase the roads outright, the most that ought to be expected by the present owners—and THE LEDGER thinks it a fair business proposition—is a price represented by a 6% income.

That is, if a road earns for its present stockholders a net income of $600 per year, it is worth $10,000, and if it earns $1,200 a year it is worth $30,000.

Persons who have never taken the trouble to drop into the County Clerk's office and examine the reports of the various Turnpike Companies are busy circulating all sorts of fabulous stories as to the "awful" tax that is to be put upon the people.

The value of a thing is not measured by what it costs.

It is measured by what it will bring in the open market.

Let us take a portion of the report of a single Turnpike Company—the Lewis and Mason—as an illustration:

Capital stock, par value $41,000
Real value 12,500
Gross earnings, 1894 $3,322 11

OFFICE OF THE PIONEER PRESS COMPANY.

W. HORNICK, Superintend. St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 18, 1894.

Eureka Chemical and Mfg Co., La Crosse, Wis., have manufactured for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly. We have found them to be excellent. We must give up the use of tobacco for the time being at least. I tried the so-called "Kodex Cure," "No-to-be," and various other remedies, but with no success until I accidentally learned of Baco-Curo. Since then I have been using it, and am now perfectly cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrors of smoking tobacco which used to make me feel sick. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, first, to show what the owners have sworn is the real value of the entire capital stock; second, to show that our esteemed friend Harry Cox doesn't know as much as THE LEDGER did about the average cost of keeping up turnpikes.

W. H. HORNICK.

It will be remembered that some weeks ago it was stated in these columns that $100 a mile was the cost of maintaining apike in good order.

Mr. Cox jumped up on his hind legs and said it cost $200 a mile for so many miles of his road, not saying a word, and knowing a thing about other miles and other roads.

Now, the Lewis and Mason road is 18½ miles long,—13 miles in Mason and 5½ in Lewis,—and it will be seen that the total cost of keeping it up last year was $1,574.98—including salaries of keeper, tolls, and all tollhouses and the purchase of a new one.

Estimating these latter three items at the modest sum of $1,000, it will be seen that the remaining cost approximated $1,800 which would bring the cost of keeping up the pike down to even less than $800 a mile.

Again—the report of the Lewis and Mason Company shows that there are 826 shares of stock in the road.

The records of the County Clerk's office show that of this the county owns—already 356 shares, and the city records show that the city owns 52 shares.

Adding these together, it will be seen that the Mason county public street own 494 shares out of the $26—or nearly one-half.

And yet we have the spectacle of people paying high tribute to use a property for which they have already paid $200 out of $41,300.

Gentlemen, free turnpikes are coming; the taxpayer will not feel the cost, since the whole of the whole county will be benefited.
